

Nutrition and Fitness

Course Description

This one- semester course provides students with a solid foundation for making healthy life choices. The focus of this course is for students to develop the knowledge to make healthy diet choices and development of a fitness plan. Students will conduct a personal diet analysis in addition to nutritional analyses with regard to life styles and ongoing life stages.

September 2011